"Barbarino"

(sully neo-logism)

The 'barbarino' is a pre-teen psycho-sexual theory of human contact. Essentially, this is what Catholic school (grade school) kids believed back in the mid to late 1970's ...

When a Man wants to have sex with a woman he ...

Asks her to dinner ...

Drinks some of her milk (this is too x rated to go into).

Something happens under the table... at the restaurant ...

And ...

That's it ...

They had sex at the restaurant ... in public ... under the table.

There are many theories as to what transgresses 'under the table', but little or no hard evidence. The name 'barbarino' comes from that super-sexy character 'Barbarino' (John Travolta) from "Welcome Back Carter".

Usage: "It looks like you just got done doing the 'barbarino'." or "Wow, I would LOVE to do the 'barbarino' with you"...

... or Barbarino ...
